

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

01R 1. Status of Soviet Morale with Respect to Psychological Readiness for War and Vulnerability to Psychological Warfare.

01R 2. Soviet Economy.

A. Total Economic Potential Relative to US and Western Europe.

01R B. Current Extent of Conversion of Industry and Other Economic Resources to Production for Military Use.

01R C. Capabilities of the Soviet Economy to Meet Essential Civilian and Military Requirements in Wartime.

(1) Maximum Production.

(2) Strategic Stockpiles.

051 D. Soviet Capabilities for the Production of Weapons of Mass Destruction (Atomic Weapons, Missiles, etc.).

omit 3. Critical Vulnerabilities of the USSR, particularly to (a) air attack; (b) economic warfare; and (c) irregular and subversive operations.

G-2 4. Strength and Combat Efficiency of Soviet Ground Forces Relative to Projected NAT Strength in Western Europe.

A-2 5. Strength and Offensive and Defensive Capabilities of Soviet Air Forces Relative to Projected NAT Strength in Western Europe and US Strategic Air Capabilities.

011 6. Capabilities of Soviet Naval Forces, Particularly Submarines, Relative to US and NATO Forces.

G-2 (continued) 7. Soviet Logistical Capabilities (Taking into Account Tactical Stockpiles) to Support Specific Military Campaigns Defined in Terms of Extent, Duration, and Levels of Attrition (ABI-14 Campaigns (Appendix H) Are Satisfactory if Defined as Indicated).

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

DOCUMENT NO. 2

NO CHANGE IN CLASS. ☐

☐ DECLASSIFIED

CLASS. CHANGED TO: TS S (C) 1991

NEXT REVIEW DATE:

ORIGINAL CLEY 029804

☐ DECL. ☒ EXTEND ON 12 Feb 1991

EXTENDING VOUCHER Same

REASON 3 d(3)